Guiding Principles for Extra-Curricular Activities

Guidance

- Advisors and coaches are leaders and role models, who provide students with training and opportunities to serve in leadership positions.

Opportunity

- All students are given the opportunity to participate in a variety of school and community activities.
- Advisors and coaches respect other programs and encourage students to participate according to their interests.

Achievement

- Clubs and sports strive for improvement and excellence in performance, participation, equipment, and facilities.
- Programs promote and recognize personal improvement and excellence for each student in citizenship, physical and mental health, and quality of life.

Traits

- Advisors and coaches deliberately teach, model, and encourage the practice of the following character traits: accountability, self-discipline, enthusiasm, hard work, humility, integrity, perseverance, respect, sacrifice, self-confidence, and unselfishness.

Scholarship

- Extra-curricular programs promote and encourage academic achievement and improvement.
