Stop Underwater Oil Drilling

Stop underwater oil drilling! Off shore drilling is bad because it affects the ecosystem. It takes 10 years to get the oil due to preparation. If an oil spills, we would not have enough time before the oil spreads in the water.

Oil spills impact up to 1,300 miles. Exxon spent 4 summers cleaning up oil. Some of the spill still remains on beaches. Exxon spent 2.1 billion dollars to clean up an oil spill. Ducks and other animals have to be cleaned because they are covered in oil. It takes a lot of people to clean up oil. It takes 10,000 workers and 1,000 boats.

It also takes the Air force. Last, it takes the Army and the Navy.

Oil spills kill the coral reefs. Some animals die because of the change of habitat. Oil spills are reason for underwater animals becoming endangered. Plankton and other organisms absorb the oil and die. Off shore oil drilling is horrible. Oil spills impact up to 1,300 miles. It takes a lot of money to clean up oil spills. Oil spills kill the coral reefs. Let's stop under water oil drilling by writing a letter to the Governor.

Why Oil Drilling is Bad

Do you like killing innocent little fishies? Well, by drilling oil you may spill it into the water, it also might go into the air. When it goes into the water it pollutes the coral reefs and the ocean animals. I don't believe that we should drill for oil. To back up my thoughts here are some reasons why and how oil drilling is bad.

When you drill oil it may go into the water, even though you can clean up to 5-15% it is still bad because the oil is so heavy that it sinks down to the bottom, gets into the sand, and it is almost impossible to clean up. And also when the oil gets into the water the pressure from the oil makes it hard to breathe for the fish and a cruel 90% of them die, that is only 10% that make it out alive. But oil getting into the air is just as bad. These are some examples how.

When you bring oil up out of the earth 15% of the oil escapes from the tube and it goes into the air. For example when oil gets into the air birds can inhale it and either get really sick or even die. But when humans inhale it they get really, really sick, if they breathe in a lot of it. Also when you get oil into the air it is bad for the plants and animals. This is where pollution comes from. Now let's talk about pollution.

Every year 39million barrels of oil is being dumped into the ocean and is polluting the earth. Oil drilling is where pollution comes from. It harms the environment and animals. Oil that goes into the air is a waste, and it kills the environment. When oil pollutes the air it is impossible to clean up. Also oil that goes into the ocean harms the coral reefs and kills the marine animals.

I think that off shore drilling is very wrong and that it should stop. Off shore drilling harms us, the environment, the ocean, and animals that live off shore and on the shore in many ways as you can see. Even though oil can help us those were some reasons how it harms us, and why it is bad.

BOOM and the fish are dead

BOOM! The fish is dead. Who wants oil drilling in the ocean? I don't think we should be drilling in the ocean because fish live in the ocean, it takes 10 years for the oil to get to the people of the USA and if there is a spill it will take very long to clean it up. One reason we shouldn't drill in the ocean is that fish live in ocean. Killing the fish is bad because if they die, what will we eat when we want fish? If you drill in the ocean, fish will lose their habitat. If there's an oil spill it will kill a lot of animals which include fish. The oil spill will also destroy their habitat. Man, it will be a bummer if the fisherman loses their job because all the fish die.

The second reason they shouldn't drill in the ocean is they spend a lot of money on oil drilling when we can spend it on other things. Right now there're drilling in Alaska so they might want to drill in the ocean. You know if we start drilling now, we will have the oil in the year 2018. So if we didn't get the oil, until then, it won't help us one bit because we need the oil now. Plus we need to spend the money on other things like food and drinks and other things. It will take 10 years for the oil to get over here to us because the oil is so far in the ground it will take a lot.

The final reason we shouldn't drill in the ocean is if there's an oil spill it will hurt the environment. Did you know that if there's an oil spill it will take 10,000 workers, 1,000 boats, 100 airplanes and the Navy and the Air Force and the Army combined to clean it up. When there's an oil spill it can cost over $2.1 billion to clean the whole thing up. The oil spill will impact 1,300 miles, plus the beaches will still have oil spill on them, which will be bad for all of us.

I think we shouldn't drill in the ocean because we should spend money on other things. Oil spills hurt the environment and you will be killing the fish. I want you guys and girls to not drill in the ocean and to save the ocean. So that's why I think we should not drill in the ocean. Thank you for listening to me.

SSSTTTOOOPPP

Who wants to waste billions of dollars or not be able to play at the beach? I don't, and I don't think that you or companies would either. Offshore oil drilling is bad because it causes oil spills. Oil spills can do a lot of damage to the ocean and the people. The animals are affected when exposed, it takes a lot to clean up, and effects the environment when exposed. Once my grandpa went to the coral reef and couldn't get in and swim because there was an oil spill.

The animals are affected when exposed to oil. The oil, if spilled can be destructive to the animal population and their future. Most of the animal population is in the ocean and oil kills them. The animals die because of oil spills occurring in their habitat. Oil spills are the reason for animals becoming endangered. Many animal lovers are going to be angry because the world will never again see those animals if they become extinct. Plankton and other organisms absorb the oil that is spilled and die. Plankton feed us and the animals because they produce oxygen and it is breathed by people and animals. Plankton is also food for many big animals like whales. Plankton is needed for many reasons.

Oil spills take a lot to clean up. Oil can spread very far and cause a lot of trouble for the people who have to clean it up, like the Exxon Company. Oil can even spread to us by getting to our beaches. If people see oil, they will never want to be near oil because they know its toxic and deadly. Animals, when they sense danger they sometimes go to the beaches for safety. If the beach is also dangerous, they'll have nowhere to go. Because of this, people clean it up. Many people and their tools do the job. Sometimes it takes 10,000 workers, 1,000 boats, 100 air planes, the Navy Army, and the Air Force to clean up the spill.

Oil spills effect the environment when exposed. Ocean life depends on the environment because it is their home. Even if we don't know it, we do to. The ocean environment is not just in the sea, it is on the beaches where people like to spend their time. Thirty percent of the oil that is spilled gets on our beaches. Oil spills impact 1,300 miles of beaches. The coral reefs, which are part of the environment, will die if exposed to oil. Coral reefs make oxygen which we need to live. if we kill coral reefs, we kill a lot of the oxygen we need.

Offshore oil drilling and the ocean don't go together. Offshore oil drilling can cause spills, and spills cause destruction and it takes a lot of money to clean it up. The oil is deadly to animals and maybe people. The results of an oil spill can cost billions of dollars to clean up. The oil can spread to us and devastate. If you agree, go to the president to get his help to stop offshore oil drilling.

John Cena starring in the new movie The Marine

Do you want to see the best movie ever? "The Marine" starring John Cena? The movie is awesome because it has a bunch of explosives.

One reason you should watch the movie is that it stars John Cena. You might not know who John Cena is. He's a wrestler in the WWE. He had the WWE title for more than year. He also held the United States title. But he was not just a wrestler he was in the army for I don't know for how many years. He has been a rapper too. He was a football player too.

The Second reason you should watch the movie is that it has action. In the movie John Cena has to save his wife. It shows how much John Cena loves Kell Karson in the movie. This movie has killing explosions and more. When John Cena goes to save his wife he kills people then it was so awesome.

The final reason you should watch "The Marine" is it's thrilling. Man, you should see when John Cena gets his wife under the water. It was so cool when the boss got on fire too. Now, get out and watch "The Marine"!

ROME

Rome, the place where gladiators fought, great churches were made, and where there are architectural magnificence. Rome is the best place to visit if you love historical and architectural places. There are many places like that, but the best places are the Pantheon, the church of San Clemente, and the most known place, the coliseum. If you are looking for historical places with the fine art of architect, come to Rome.

The first place you want to visit is the Pantheon. The Pantheon is the most intact building from antiquity in the world. It almost looks exactly like it was in the time it was built. The temple was created to honor the Olympian gods. It reminds me of the movie "Hercules" when he goes to the temple to see Zeus to ask who he is. The details and structure is magnificent with the great circular hall, roofed by a hemispherical vault with an opening at the center. The temple itself is made out of the rich monoliths of Egyptian granite. The temple will amaze you with its art.

Along with is the Church of San Clemente. The church is evidence of the Italian language, altar of the secret cult of the mithras. The altar is an actual ancient alley of the city. This would show you that there could be more secrets we don't know about Rome.

You can't miss Rome's Coliseum. The Coliseum is the most ancient renowned monument in Rome. It was one of the very first roman amphitheatres to be built. Gladiators fight, human fed to hungry beasts, and violent sporting events. The Coliseum is an architectural magnificence.

The place where great churches were made, where gladiators fought, and where there is architectural magnificence, is Rome. If you love architect and historical places then Rome is your place. Its best places are the Pantheon, the Church of San Clemente, and the most well-known place, the Coliseum. If you're looking for architectural and historical places, come to Rome.

Chilling with Kristen

Kristen Conrad Interviewed by Natalie Murray

I interviewed my cousin Kristen Conrad. I interviewed her because she is kooky, and a very lively person. I couldn't wait to hear her reply's to my questions. I had already guessed that her answers would be fun. Now I am going to share them with you.

Q: If you were to eat at only one restaurant for the rest of your life what would it be?

A: I would choose any sushi restaurant.

Q: If you only had one year to live what would you do with that year?

A: First I would quit my job as a nurse. Then I would go to Europe. After that I would spend the last 6 months with my family.

Q: If you could break one current world sports record what would it be?

A: I would beat Michael Phelps by swimming across the ocean and not getting eaten by a shark or freezing to death.

Q: If you could completely remove someone's vocal cords for a year, who's would it be?

A: I would remove Madonna's vocal cords, her voice bugs me.

Q: If you could cancel one day of the week which would it be and why?

A: I would cancel Mondays, because I know that there is four more days of school left.

Q: If you could do any job in the world what would it be and why?

A: I would be a dancer because that is like the only thing that interests me, and also because it pays well.

Q: If you could have your license plate say any thing what would it say?

A: Miss-Mimzy, I like the way it sounds.

Q: If you were stranded on an island and could only have one music track to listen to what would it be?

A: Aladdin, magic carpet ride, I love that song.

Q: If you had to sacrifice a limb which one would it be?

A: I would sacrifice my left arm.

Q: If you could keep only one of your senses which would it be?

A: I would keep hearing, so I could hear myself sing, and I could here my boy Aladdin.

Q: If you had to fight a duel at dawn which weapon would you use?

A: I would use a wooden spoon with a hole in it to make it go faster, and also my catlike reflexes.

Q: If you had to name something that readily ruins your day, what would it be?

A: When somebody says something rude to me, I don't get over it.
