Dress Codes

Do you think there should be dress codes or uniform? I think so because they are helpful to schools. They can help tell people who don't go to the school apart. Kids are getting better at grades. They have uniforms and don't have gang apparel at school.

In the first place more and more schools are switching to uniforms. After, kids are getting better grades in school because of the uniforms. Later on they also help to identify trespassers and non-students and others. At last they keep kids safe like from kids harming each other.

Some parents like the uniforms and dress code idea. The students don't get distracted with clothing. The uniforms are usually cheaper and the parents like it better than buying lots of school cloths! It also has a traditional look.

Most schools have regulations on dress codes. Like, so the students don't get that distracted on clothing. They don't want gang apparel. They don't want gang apparel because they don't want kids to get hurt, and so kids don't dress in an inappropriate manner.

I think there should be dress codes. More and more schools are switching to dress codes. The parents like it a lot better. Most of the schools have regulations on it. You should take this to your school board!

Dress Codes

Do you really think we should have dress codes? I do! For two very important reasons, one, some styles of clothing may offend or intimidate some people. Two, Schools have dress codes to protect us from injury and harm. If we don't dress according to our schools dress codes things won't turn out the way we wanted.

Certain clothing that some people wear may offend another person or people. Girls might wear skimpy shorts or skirts and shirts that show most or all of their stomach, and guys that wear their pants down to their knees. Clothing like that may distract children from their education. Just think if we didn't have dress codes everyone would see how immodest this school is and would never enroll their kid.

That would affect the income the school makes.

Schools have dress codes to protect us. Some articles of clothing are gang related and may have a great effect on kids and in some cases even teachers. In Elementary School we weren't allowed to wear sandals well why do you think that was? Because the school didn't want really little kids getting hurt. The older kids they didn't want getting hurt but the dress code on sandals was basically for the younger kids. Some families might get really mad at the school for what happened to their child and may even make the school pay money.

If you don't dress according to the school dress codes things won't turn out the way you suspected. Just ask the kids who got sent to court for wearing an anti-gay shirt, an anti-Bush shirt and the kid in Napa California who was sent to court for wearing Tigger socks. People would throw out verbal assaults at another persons clothing. Like that's ugly or why are you wearing that? Comments like that would surely hurt people's feelings.

I strongly think schools need dress codes. Schools have dress codes to protect us. Certain clothing may offend other people. We need to follow our schools dress codes so things will go as we planned. We should at the very least write a letter thanking our school board for making our school clean and modest!!!

Dress Codes

'Fred, look at the girl with the tongue ring'. Do you want dress codes? My opinion is I think there should be dress codes in school. One reason is with dress codes, clothes with references to drugs are usually not allowed. Second, more and more public schools are switching to uniforms. Finally, 50% of the USA's schools have dress codes, we should too.

Clothes referencing drugs are usually not allowed. Advertisements on t-shirts persuade kids to drink. Sometimes they promote different types of beer or wine. Advertisements for different packs of smokes or they'll buy some tobacco. I was walking down the street when I saw an adult wearing a shirt with cigarettes.

More and more public schools are switching to uniform. It will keep you focused on academics. Gang dressing spreads fear in some schools. Big pockets are restricted from schools. They could hide a knife in there pocket.

Most schools should have a regulation on how students dress. Torn pants are banded from schools. Uniforms are a good way to identify visitors. Dog tags, tongue rings and studs are not allowed either.

Help me stop t-shirts that are referenced to drugs. Some schools are switching to uniforms. Most schools should have a regulation on how student dress. If you agree with me tell your principal now.

Dress Codes

Oh my gosh! Look at her outfit. It's so ugly I would never wear that!" That is how rumors get started and feelings get hurt.

One of my reasons why you should follow the dress codes because kids could hide weapons, they could come to school wearing inappropriate clothes, and there will not be any more commotions of as to looks the best.

One reason why we should have dress codes is that people come to school with inappropriate clothes on. A girl could come to school wearing a tank top, and a mini skirt. Also, boys could come to school wearing baggy pants that show their boxers. That's just plain gross! They also could wear bandanas and pretend they are gangsters.

In addition kids could hide weapons. Do you know why hats and bandanas are not allowed in school? Well, the reason is because they could hide guns in their hats. And some time ago, kids would tie drugs around their ankles, heads or wrists with bandanas. If we did not have dress codes, this could happen again and people could get hurt, killed and harassed.

The third reason we should have dress codes is that there will not be any more competition as to who looks the best in school. People get made fun of depending on how they look and dress. That's why people look sad and become mean. It's also how fights get started. It could also lead to rumors and feelings getting hurt.

In conclusion people should follow the dress code. If we did not have dress codes, students could hide weapons, dress inappropriately, and also have competitions of who looks the best in school. So please follow the dress code. Thank you for listening!

I interviewed my dear Aunt Juli!!!

I interviewed my aunt Julie. I interviewed her because she is very nice and helps me with lots of stuff. I am going to ask her 12 questions. I will learn more about her I hope. I hope you enjoy the questions I am going to ask my aunt.

Question 1: If you had to eat in only one restaurant for the rest of your life, which would it be? She said the Apple Cup.

Question 2: The one thing that can most readily ruin your day what would it be? She said getting a speeding ticket. Question 3: If you were sentenced to spend the rest of your life who would you take?

She said Daisy her dog or her husband Marc. Question 4: If your house were to be haunted by a ghost of one person in history who would it be and she said Elvis.

Question 5: If you had any view in the world from your bed what would it be? She said the ocean. Q 6: What day of the week would you cancel? She said Monday because you could have a 3 day weekend.

Q 7: If you could do one job for a day what would it be she said a rock star. Q 8: If you were stranded on a dessert island and only have one CD album what would it be? She said classical. Q 9: If you had to sacrifice 1 of your limbs which would it be and she said her left hand.

Question 10: If you were to have bells ring every time you did 1 thing what would it be she said waking up.

Q11: If you could keep 1 of your 5 senses she said hearing.

I had a fun time interviewing my aunt. I learned a lot about her, she did a good job on answering the questions. I hope you learned a lot about her to I hope you enjoyed the interview.

Hawaii, The Aloha State

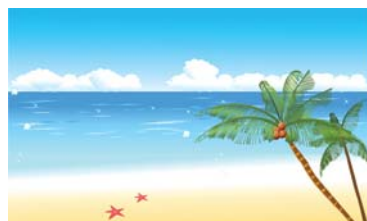

Beaches, Hotels, Surfing, Scuba Diving, Sand, Sun, Hawaii!!! Hawaii is a very fun and entertaining place to go. Visit all six islands, Oahu, Maui, Kauai, Hawaii, Molokai, and Lanai. Visit the capitol, Honolulu, on the island of Oahu.

Maybe you could even go to the black sand beaches on the big island of Hawaii. Don't take any sand home with you or you could get in trouble with the law. While we were at one of those beaches we saw four very large turtles. It was really exciting. There is also a gigantic bamboo forest on the smaller island of Maui. All around you are shoots of bamboo so tall it seems like they touch the sky!

Did you know there are still active volcanoes on the island of Hawaii? One of these volcanoes is called Mt. Kilauea. Actually when we went to Hawaii about eight months ago it started spitting out lava. Nothing serious, but it was pretty cool seeing the lava flow.

There are so many places to go like the beaches, the exotic forests with many different animals or even the great volcanoes. Hawaii is the best place to go, with the oceans waves, the sand between your toes, and the warmth of the sun, Hawaii is the perfect place to have some fun!!

Listen to this!!!!!!

Hey look at the girl with the head phones I wonder what she is listening to. Do you like music? I know I do because it gives beet to dance to. Well here is a good CD to listen to. It's called 'if you're going through heck'. It's got lots of good songs but there's one and only one great song on there to me.

You would like it if you were a country person. The song is about a dad and his son the son wants to be a like his dad, it's called watching you. One of the not so great songs is cleaning the sun. Out of a 1 to 10 it's an 8 compared to other songs.

The guy who sings it his name is Rodney Adkins. You would like it a little because I like it most of the time
